

Athens, September 7, 2020

Press Release

Alpha Bank a constituent of the FTSE4Good Index Series for the 4th consecutive year

Alpha Bank was distinguished for its high performance in implementing strong Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) best practices as well as its significant improvement in the Governance sector, for the past year, and succeeded in maintaining, for the fourth consecutive year, its position in the Financial Times Stock Exchange4Good (FTSE4Good) Index Series.

With this distinction, Alpha Bank reinforces its active participation in the global effort to build a sustainable future for the economy and the planet. To this end, since 2004, the Bank has been a member of the United Nations Environment Programme Finance Initiative (UNEPFI), while in August 2019, it signed the six Principles for Responsible Banking, continuing to develop and implement environmental responsibility programs and investing in environmental-friendly practices and technologies.

The FTSE4Good Index includes listed companies with positive financial, environmental and social performance and is used by leading market participants for the creation and assessment of responsible investment funds and other products.

Additional information about Alpha Bank's Corporate Responsibility and participation in International Indices and Organizations is available at the Bank's website.

