Together... in environmental actions in Athens and Thessaloniki!

As part of its Corporate Social Responsibility activities for the protection of the environment, Alpha Bank organised on Sunday, October 19, 2014 environmental events in Athens and Thessaloniki.

In Athens, environmental actions for adults and children as well as a visit were conducted at the Aesthetic Forest of Kaisariani, in association with “Philodassiki Enossi Athinon”. In particular, the Volunteers planted trees in such a way so as to configure the botanical path that is preserved by Philodassiki. In parallel, the children participated in an educational game which was entitled “What is hidden inside the Aesthetic Forest?”

In Thessaloniki, an Olive Picking event was carried out at the American Farm School premises. The event started with olive picking using combs in the School’s olive grove. Following this, the olives were transported to the olive mill where olive tasting took place. In parallel, the Employees’ children took part in activities and cooked at the wheat laboratory. Finally, they sowed wheat seeds in a small personal flower pot.
